WEDNESDAY, JAN. 28, 1891.

Our situation is peculiar. On the north side of the river thousands of cords of dry wood is going to waste, our settlement is suffering from a severe stringency in the money market, the Railway Company have shown their willingness to assist in relieving it by granting a reduced rate on car lots of wood, which would enable us to ship a large quantity of our surplus to points east, but the timber regulations of the Government are such that we are unable to export a single cord, the local agent claiming that he is unable to allow wood to be cut as a commercial speculation. Such being the case, immediate steps should be taken to impress upon the Government the importance of relaxing their rules. Had fires not have been allowed to sweep through our forests, some reason for the present arbitrary law might exist, but with thousands of cords going to waste and people anxious to turn it to the advantage of a settlement seriously needing the circulation of money, we feel that the Government have no justification for the regulations on which their agents here are at present acting.

Usually we judge whether a country will be successful or not according to its adaptability for wheat raising. Great as may be the profits which have accrued to the growers of this grain, there is yet another way in which we may look at the prospective prosperity of a country. Although there is always a demand for wheat, it is yet very uncertain what will be the return to the grower, as there are a multitude of things which are adverse to the growing of this grain, and it is in the avoidance of these that we must look for the continued prosperity of a country. Besides the uncertainty of there being favorable weather for the maturing of a crop, there is also the fact that by continued cropping land becomes exhausted. The surest way to prevent this exhaustion is found in stock raising, thus avoiding the necessity of artificially renewing the soil. Instead of the land becoming exhausted, we have it in stock raising, becoming more fertile. And further, the returns from stock raising are much more certain than from grain growing, as the stock raiser is less dependent on the kind of weather than the man who gives his entire attention to grain growing. The success which has attended those who have followed this kind of farming, and the future prospects of its being a profitable industry, ought to induce farmers to give more attention to it. With the opening of the Hudson Bay railway, we shall see also a marked advancement in the value of stock with a consequent profit to the raisers. As to the suitability of this country for stock raising purposes, it would hardly be possible to over estimate the advantages. There is an abundance of water and grass, which are the two most necessary things for the rearing of stock, and with such we need feel little concern about the future of our country.

Very strange people are the Washington anglophobes. They have now discovered that it is "unfriendly" and "pettifogging" for the Canadian and British authorities to submit their case against the United States to its highest court.

An exchange notes the fact that the decline in the United States deep sea fisheries is great, especially in the mackerel catch, which has declined in five years from 300,000 barrels to less than 20,000 barrels. It would look as if the abrogation of the Washington treaty, and the consequent exclusion of United States fishermen from the Canadian waters where the fish are had not been a good speculation.

Engineers have now thoroughly investigated that part of the English channel which it is proposed to bridge. The water has been sounded near both shores and is found to be much shallower than was expected, so that there will be considerable saving in the estimated cost. The engineers having vindicated its commercial feasibility do not attempt to tackle the political and strategic phases of the question.

In the local column of the Saskatchewan of last week we are told that the Qu'Appelle Progress has changed hands, and has likewise changed its tune. We would ask if the increased prosperity which is now likely to attend this paper, is meant to be accounted for by its ceasing to be an advocate of prohibition. If such is the explanation we are sorry to think that the Territories are so much given up to the use of intoxicants that the interests of a paper, which advocates their discontinuance should be affected thereby.

The treatment of the Indian population by Canada is noted with approval abroad. Says the New York Times: "The report of a 'sympathetic strike' among the Indians on the Canadian side of the North-western border will not be very impressive to those who remember how few and unimportant have been the 'Indian troubles' in Canada. In comparison with the whites, the Indians are more numerous there than here, and could make themselves much more troublesome. They do not wish to do so, simply because they have been treated with justice."

The Empire says the motion on behalf of Canada and the British Empire to bring the question of jurisdiction in Behring sea before the Supreme Court of the United States is a very interesting step in this long controversy. It is desirable that redress should be sought, as far as possible, in the courts of a country by the subject of another country who is wronged, before diplomacy takes the place of law. Apparently the difficulties that have stood in the way of an appeal to the Supreme Court are in a fair way to be overcome, and the opinion of a court of such high repute will be valuable. It is hardly likely that Mr. Blaine will place technical obstacles in the way, as it would be a confession of the weakness of his cause if he dared not submit it to the highest court of his country.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It cures expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; breaks the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases of the Lungs ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced Cough Cure. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

MEETING HELD AT REGINA.

Meeting of Board of Education, 20th and 21st January 1891.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Report of Standing Committee read and approved.

Report from Inspector Hewgill of the Normal Session held by him at Moosomin Union School received, and certificates granted to five of the pupils.

A provisional Standard VII for Union Schools promulgated, of which due public notice will be given in a few days.

Agriculture made an optional "bonus" subject at the next entrance examination and for all candidates at the next teachers' examination. 75 marks will be allowed for this subject, and the number of marks obtained by any candidate will be added as a bonus to the aggregate number of marks obtained in other subjects. The Ontario Public School book on Agriculture, published by Bryant & Co. was adopted as the text-book for the N. W. T. For the next examination the following work was prescribed in this subject. Entrance examination 1st 7 chapters. For 3rd class candidate 1st eleven chapters, for 2nd class 1st 14 chapters, and for 1st candidates the whole book.

In view of the small attendance of teachers at the Normal Sessions held at Moosomin and Regina, during the past few months, it was decided that papers should be set on the Science and Art of teaching for all candidates at next teachers' examination.

It is not considered advisable to make attendance at the Normal Sessions compulsory at present, nor to alter the age of candidates for certificates; nor to prescribe a temperance text-book, on which subjects some memorials had been received.

An application to have instrumental music inserted as a subject in the programme of studies was decided in the negative, as it was thought there was plenty of more useful and practical work now prescribed. Also that such a subject was a luxury and should be taught after school hours, and not at the government expense.

An application from the Trustees of Battleford District to have the location of their school approved was acceded to.

A number of applications of teachers to have their non-professional certificates exchanged for professional certificates were considered and 21 such applications were granted.

Seven applicants, holding certificates obtained elsewhere in Her Majesty's Dominions, were granted licenses valid to teach in the N. W. until next examination.

"The Concise Imperial Dictionary" was added to the list of Dictionaries for use in the Union Schools.

Work for each examiner, for the examinations to be held during 1891, was allotted, and a large amount of the usual routine work of such meetings was attended to.

Drawing was made an optional subject at next teachers examination for the candidates.

An additional subject was added to the list of subjects for 1st class candidates, such candidates are to write on a paper for Latin or French (as prescribed in Standard VI.)

AMATEUR DRAMATIC CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

The members of the Amateur Dramatic Club must be cordially congratulated on their successful representation of "Weak Woman," a three act comedy by H. J. Byron. The play is not a remarkably good one, and the actors had therefore a much harder task than usually falls to the lot of amateurs. The plot is as follows: The Misses Helen and Lillian Gaythorne (Mrs. G. S. Davison and Miss Drever) are the heiresses of the estate of their uncle, who has disinherited his nephew Frederic Fanshawe (Mr. Barwell) for some supposed offence. But the legacy has not been distributed equally between the two ladies, but has been left almost entirely to one, the other possessing only a small annuity. Which is the fortunate one is a secret, shared by the two ladies and by their old friend and adviser, Dr. Fleming (Mr. A. G. Mountain). Arthur Medwyn (Mr. Neely) is in love with Lillian, and Fred. Fanshawe, who comes home from Mexico, to take charge of the estate, on the recommendation of Dr. Fleming, falls in love with Helen, but for some mysterious reason, pretends to prefer Lillian. Capt. Ginger (Mr. Strachan) and Mr. Tootles (Mr. Walton) are ready to fall desperately in love with either of the ladies, but are uncertain as to which has the money. Mrs. Gunn (Mrs. Norman) is a visitor at Gaythorne Hall, and is charitably inclined. Dr. Fleming gives Fred. a letter from his uncle, which, to Fred's astonishment, proves to contain a letter will, leaving the whole of the property to him, he immediately declares his love to Helen, who imagining that, in some way, he has found out that she is the heiress, promptly refuses him, and dismisses him from Gaythorne Hall. Lillian is appealed to and also dismisses him. Dr. Fleming is informed of the circumstances of the case, but cannot be persuaded that Fred has been so base, and sends for him, and of course discovers the real facts of the case. Helen has been listening to the conversation between the Dr. and Fred comes in and an understanding is arrived at. Arthur Medwyn unconsciously misleads Capt. Ginger into the belief that Mrs. Gunn is the heiress, whereupon the gallant captain proposes to that lady and is at once accepted, and all ends happily for every body.

The acting throughout was exceedingly good, the scene between Helen and Fred at the close of the second act being above comedy, while Ginger and Tootles kept the house in fits of laughter by their sharp remarks to each other. The love scene between Mrs. Gunn and Capt. Ginger was beautifully acted. Lillian and Arthur were good representatives of spooney lovers, and seemed to have little else to do. Dr. Fleming was exceedingly good, and must be sincerely congratulated on his acting, while Edwards the servant, although taking a minor part, proved himself fully equal to greater efforts. The scenery was decidedly good, and reflects the greatest credit on the artist, Mr. Walton. Between the acts the band of F Division N.W.M.P., played exceedingly well. Mr. E. J. Cann also played some selections on the piano. The proceeds were devoted to the funds of St. Alban's Church.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

We are pleased when we can record Canadian enterprise, backed by sterling worth and character, and this we do in calling the attention of our customers to the handsome illustrated seed catalogue, of the Steele Bros. Co., Toronto, which even excels the splendid one of last year, their premises are immense and their business national. They offer the latest novelties in Flowers, Bulbs, Vegetable and Field seeds, amongst these we notice Steele's White Cave Oats, an astonishing cropper: Campbell's New White Chaff

Spring Wheat, which is so highly recommended by the Experimental Farm Ottawa: Thoroughbred White Flint Corn, highly spoken of by "The Rural New Yorker" and which yielded 30 tons of Fuelage per acre; Burpee's Extra Early Potato, the earliest out. They will for only 25c. send post paid 1 lb. of above oats, or wheat, or corn, or 1 lb. Potatoes and a copy of the catalogue. Send now, it will pay you, or send 20c. for catalogue, which may be deducted from first order.

Paris, Jan. 22.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Minister Robott said that France had not the slightest designs on Tripoli and that rumors to the contrary were unworthy of attention. "It is no business of ours," he added, "what inspired the journals of Signor Crispi to say on this or any other subject." The statement was received with cheers from all parts of the chamber.

Curling on Loth rinks is fairly booming, matches of all kinds being played every day and evening. The married and single match was played on the Saskatchewan rink Saturday last, and as usual the benedicts downed the youngsters. Boys, take warning and play on the right side next season.
The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's church was held on Wednesday evening of last week. The choir was occupied by Mr. Stull who called on the secretary to read the minutes of the last annual meeting. In passing a horse running loose on the street the vicious brute suddenly kicked at him inflicting an ugly cut on the lip. Dr. Baia was called in and closed the wound with several stitches. Mr. Stull will be confined to the house for a few days, when we hope to see him around again, attending to his numerous duties.
A free trip around the world, via Nellie By's route, or its equivalent in gold is given by Bell's Magazine for the largest list of words constructed out of the words "Bell's Magazine." Also pianos, organs, parlor suites, gold watches, silver tea sets, parlor coal stoves etc., all positively given away. Everyone sending not less than twenty words will get a present. Send 12 cents in stamps, mentioning THE P. A. TIMES, for rules, illustrated catalogue and copy of paper to Bell's Magazine, Toronto, Ont.
The Prince Albert Quadrille Club held their second assembly on Thursday evening last. It was even better attended than the first. The new concert hall at the barracks, was the place chosen for the dance, and it certainly presented a brilliant aspect, being very tastefully decorated, and full, without being crowded, of people whose looks showed that they were thoroughly enjoying themselves. The supper too, reflects great credit on the caterer. Altogether we think, that too much praise cannot be given to the committee of management for the way they have carried out their undertaking. The next assembly will be held on February 5th. Members can procure tickets for February from the treasurer, W. R. Fish.
The Dominion Illustrated, in its enlarged and improved form, should be a weekly visitor to all Canadian homes. The enterprising publishers who seek to greatly increase the circulation of their journal, and also to induce their subscribers to cultivate the habit of careful reading have hit upon a scheme that will be of mutual benefit. They will, during the next six months distribute over $2,000 in prizes for answers to questions the material of which will be found in current numbers of the journal itself. The first prize is $750 in gold. There are 100 prizes in all. On receipt of 12 cents in stamps the publishers (The Saturday Little & Pals, Co., Montreal) will send a sample copy and all parties have. The reputation of The Dominion Illustrated is an ample guarantee that faith will be kept with subscribers.
The following motion was passed at a recent meeting of five company No. 2. We fancy that if the members of that company had read our notice of the fire carefully, and understood it, they would have no cause for complaint. We merely gave credit where credit was due: "That in the issue of THE PRINCE ALBERT TIMES of the 9th inst. referring to the fire at Judge Macdonald's residence the North West Mounted Police got credit for the extinguishing of the fire, whereas the members of No. 2 five company were promptly on the ground after the alarm of fire, and had the fire nearly out, and nearly all the furniture removed before the arrival of the Police under Capt. Norman. The company therefore ask the editor of THE PRINCE ALBERT TIMES to correct the error in said issue in justice to members of said company."
